Serving Students in Utah County Schools

Kids Cause Makes a Difference

Kids Cause, local schools, and communities have seen many positive results in the last 18 years through the efforts of our organization. This includes improved grades, and self confidence; however, the number of students with moderate to severe needs increases every year. Kids Cause depends entirely on voluntary help and donations. All donations to United Way, for Kids Cause, are fully tax deductible.

Local educators recognize that many students in our schools are struggling. Some live without the basic necessities of food, clothing and shelter despite the availability of social assistance programs. Alpine, Nebo and Provo educators have joined with the United Way and community groups to serve Utah County children. Children in school classrooms who need glasses, shoes, clothing, winter coats or medical needs can receive these items through the Kids Cause coordinator at their school.

“Together we can build a better community by helping school children who live in our neighborhoods”

The schools in Utah County have selected a Kids Cause coordinator who works with the principal, staff and parents to meet student needs. Teachers have direct contact with their students and can recognize issues that deter students from learning.

Kids Cause can provide for student needs...

Kids cause works to ensure that the lack of adequate help for students in our schools will not stand in the way of their success.
